EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Even as India struggles to rise to the present challenges of improving school learning outcomes, a big new one is looming on the horizon. The ASER 2022 report indicating how much the pandemic pushed reading and math outcomes below already disquieting levels, has come amidst a global panic about how much ChatGPT, an artificial intelligence tool that can write college and school essays and solve some basic problems, will be upending education. For example, it's been banned from New York City public schools' devices and networks. Remember this chatbot was launched less than two months ago, more advanced versions and cousins will take exponentially faster tolls.

Yet, most of India's policymakers, school administrators and teachers maintain a loud silence on this topic. Their attitude makes zero sense given the breakneck pace at which the country has been embracing new technologies. It is also tone-deaf to the buzz among the students themselves. They are strikingly swifter at catching global cultural trends. The pull of a tool that can do the homework without the teacher detecting the plagiarism, is no different in Bengaluru than New York.

ASER reports that across rural government and private schools, since 2018 the proportion of Class V children who can read at least a Class II text has fallen from 50.5% to 42.8%, while the number of Class V children who can do division has fallen from 27.9% to 25.6%. In theory it is possible that as deep learning is being deployed for mass admissions and testing, it can help guide more effective lesson plans. But this will need teachers with very sophisticated pedagogic and digital competency to be in the driving seat. Basically a new paradigm of foundational education is rising up in the world even as India is rallying the building blocks of the previous one. But our Achilles heel remains the same: poorly trained teachers. Herding them into a stadium to sit through lectures is a very poor substitute for 'learning by doing'. Let's equip our teachers better, then they can help turn AI from learning's foe to friend. — In The Times of India

MGP to stage Satyagraha against 'bad governance' on Jan. 29

Mysuru, Jan. 20 (PM&BCT)- The Mysore Grahakara Parishat (MGP) has called for a Satyagraha on Jan. 29 from 9 am to 6 pm to sensitise people, elected representatives, high-ranking and decision-making officers on the importance of saving Mysuru to Mysureans in the wake of systematic and blatant destruction and violations in the name of development.

"The novel strategy is to hold a unique kind of Satyagraha. Every Mysurean (excepting those who are needed for essential services like doctors, nurses, Police, etc) must stop using any kind of vehicles on Jan. 29 between 9 am and 6 pm. During these hours, they should not shop or visit restaurants (a kind of self-imposed lockdown like the ones observed during the peak of COVID pandemic)," said Founding President of MGP Dr. Bhamy V. Shenoy.

Addressing reporters at Pathrakartara Bhavan yesterday morning, he said that they are organising the Satyagraha against bad governance. "Mysuru's roads are not safe and 170 deaths took place in 2022 versus 121 in 2021, footpaths are encroached upon in many places, lakes especially Kukkarahalli Lake are close to their death bed and parks are encroached upon in the name of providing civic amenities. These are just a few examples of bad governance," he said.

"At a time when Karnataka Parks Act prohibits any construction, all the 525 parks in Mysuru are seeing systematic destruction and unfortunately, it is the elected representatives who are behind the destruction and they do not care. Less said the better about Chamundi Hill where in the name of promoting commercial tourism, its heritage as a spiritual centre is destroyed and biodiversity is under attack. If this is not bad governance, then what is it," Bhamy Shenoy questioned.

On the day of the Satyagraha, people can visit parks or take walks. Those who are seriously dedicated to our cause can assemble at parks to sit-in for one or two hours as part of the Satyagraha to register their protest. The main requirement of Satyagraha is to resist commercial activities on that day, he added.

"Unlike other protests, we are not asking anyone to close shops or restaurants. Participating is totally voluntary and this is really a people's movement. We want to wake up the authorities, especially all the elected representatives, DC, SP, Special Commissioners and CEOs and other top officials who have scant regard for Mysuru, its heritage and biodiversity and who are hell-bent on destroying them in the name of development," Bhamy Shenoy said.

Opposition to stadium land

MGP Working President Shobhana said that the MGP has opposed the Karnataka State Cricket Association's International Cricket Stadium that is proposed at Hanchya-Sathagalli.

"In the 20-acre land that has been earmarked by the Mysuru Urban Development Authority, there was a lake named Kanakakatte. We demand the rejuvenation of the Lake and the land for the stadium can be allotted elsewhere," she said.

There was another lake nearby called the Megalakatte Lake and a PU College is coming up after eating away the water body. "We want this water body to be rejuvenated," she added.

Bring millets back in kitchen for healthy living: Minister

Mysuru, Jan. 20 (MK&BCT)- Millets are gaining ground as healthy options for those suffering from lifestyle diseases, whether it is diabetes, high blood pressure, cardiovascular diseases, intestinal disorders or allergies towards gluten. "These were once poor man's food and now loved by one and all including the super-rich, thanks to their nutritional and sustainability value," said Agriculture Minister B.C. Patil.

Speaking after inaugurating the 'Siri Dhanya Mela' or millet festival organised at P. Kalinga Rao Mantapa in Karnataka Exhibition Grounds as part of the International Year of Millets in the city on Wednesday, the Minister said that millets have long been the staple food in the country.

But polished rice, processed sugar and other refined food products produced using chemical fertilisers have become part of daily life now, he regretted. The festival is being conducted in all the districts by the Department of Agriculture.

"With no alternative, people have got accustomed to such harmful food and in the process, getting health disorders, diabetes, high blood pressure and obesity. Millets are rich in vitamins and minerals including calcium, iron, potassium, magnesium and zinc," he said.

"The food we consume thinking of them as healthy has become toxic due to high use of chemical insecticides, pesticides and fertilisers and they lack nutrition. Hence the current focus is on organic food production besides thrust on millets to ensure nutritional security. Even farmers are benefiting from growing millets as the cultivation cost is low and they have high market value. These crops can be grown even under arid conditions," Patil noted.

"The water required for rice and wheat crops in one year equates with water requirement of millets for 26-30 years. This single reason is good enough for scientists and farmers to have shifted to the cultivation of millets. Barren lands could be rehabilitated with natural farming of millets," he said.

"The BJP Government is giving a boost for millet cultivation on a large scale and the Department of Agriculture was disbursing Rs. 10,000 per hectare for cultivating six types of millets. While many youngsters are abandoning agriculture and are migrating to cities in search of jobs, hundreds of progressive farmers in Karnataka, through innovations in agriculture, have proved that agriculture was lucrative and sustainable," he said.

Complimenting farmers for ensuring food security by ensuring record growth in agricultural production, the Minister said there was a time when 38 crore people of the country could not be fed and India lacked food security and had to import food from other countries. "After the Green Revolution, India became self-sufficient in food and also exported food to other countries," he noted.

Karnataka Exhibition Authority Chairman Mirle Srinivasa Gowda, Deputy Mayor Dr. G. Roopa, Department of Agriculture Joint Director Dr. B.S. Chandrashekar, Mysore Chamber of Commerce and Industry President K.B. Lingaraju, progressive farmers Dilip Kumar, Madhu Kishore Hegde and Kallahalli Shivakumar were present on the occasion.

VOICE OF THE READER

Make use of Rs. 10 and Rs. 20 coins hassle free

Sir,

We have heard a lot about fake currencies earlier too, for instance coin in the denomination of Rs. 10. Recently I had visited Shirdi and could see people exchange Rs. 10 coin, but whereas in Karnataka especially in Mysuru, the traders do not accept Rs. 10 coin.

I feel certain awareness should be created among people to accept and exchange the coins of this particular face value, as they are legal tenders of Reserve Bank of India (RBI).

The banks and respective Government officials should also educate the people about usage of Rs. 10 and 20 coins instead of the soiled notes.

Hope the officials concerned will do the needful.

Development of Chamundi Hill under PRASHAD scheme

'Seek Heritage Panel's nod before executing project'

Citizen activists to meet Deputy Commissioner, the Head of District Heritage Committee, on Jan. 25

A group photo of the environmental activists, who attended the meeting at Cheluvamba Park in city yesterday, to discuss Chamundi Hill development works.

Mysuru, Jan. 20 (SBD&BCT)- Taking further their preliminary meeting to decide the future course of action against the proposed development project of Chamundi Hill under the Centre's Pilgrimage Rejuvenation and Spiritual Heritage Augmentation Drive (PRASHAD) scheme, citizen activists, Chamundi Betta Ulisi Samithi and Parisara Balaga activists have decided to meet Deputy Commissioner (DC) Dr. K.V. Rajendra on Jan. 25. The aim of the meeting is to get a clear-cut idea about the proposed development project at an estimated cost of Rs. 48.3 crore to provide additional facilities for tourists. At a meeting convened at Cheluvamba Park in the city yesterday, the activists decided on meeting the DC to ascertain the impact of the proposed projects on the environment, biodiversity and the threat to lung space.

Unilateral decisions

Alleging that the elected representatives and the officers are taking unilateral decisions on the development of the Chamundi Hill, the participants resolved to fight unitedly under the banner of Chamundi Betta Ulisi Samithi. They decried the lack of accountability when it came to Chamundi Hill where stakeholders are sidelined and pertinent issues like environment and biodiversity brushed under the carpet.

The meeting resolved to press for project clearance from the District Heritage Committee as the Chamundi Hill, the Sri Chamundeshwari Temple and the surrounding ancient structures and temples are all integral part of Mysuru's heritage. The next course of action will be decided after getting the complete project information, its pros and cons and environment impact.

KEY TAKEAWAYS

- Introduction of electric buses to Chamundi Hill and banning private vehicles. Only public transport must be allowed
- Harnessing of solar energy to all parts of the Hill
- Intensifying protests, Satyagraha and public campaigns
- Involving social media influencers to oppose the Chamundi Hill development
- Insisting on Heritage Committee approval before PRASHAD scheme is implemented
- Pursue legal fight against PRASHAD scheme
- Publicising the environment degradation aspect of PRASHAD scheme
- Insist on vacating all illegal shops around Thavarekatte area
- Fight against any development at Parks and green spaces
- Insist on the effective implementation of Karnataka Parks, Play-Field and Open Spaces (Preservation and Regulation) Act, 1985

Sketchy project info

At present, the project information is sketchy and trickling in bits and pieces with no concrete information on the overall project. "We will convey our apprehensions and fears to the DC, who is the Head of the District Heritage Committee, and we will insist on the approval by the Heritage Committee before any development project is taken up atop the Chamundi Hill which has already been a victim of unbridled development," said Prof. N.S. Rangaraju, retired Professor from the Department of Ancient History and Archaeology, University of Mysore, who is also a Member of Heritage Conservation Committee, Government of Karnataka.

"TVS has come forward to restore the dilapidated government school atop Chamundi Hill and has sought the approval of the District Heritage Committee. We are happy that our public movement has at least resulted in this change where the approval of the Heritage Committee is sought before development," Prof. Rangaraju added.

Citizens kept in the dark

Noted water conservationist and an advocate of alternative technologies U.N. Ravikumar said that though the taxpayers' money is being spent on developing the Chamundi Hill, the citizens are kept in the dark about the project. "We must demand greater consultation as the Chamundi Hill and its biodiversity are crucial for the survival of Mysuru. It is the city's natural and heritage asset. Given the environmental sensitivity, the focus should be on conservation," he said.

Ravikumar added that in fact, the Government must take up projects that complement the ecology and biodiversity. "Unfortunately, all the development works that have already been undertaken atop the Hill like the multi-level parking lot and others are against biodiversity and have caused great harm to the unique flora and fauna. The Government must encourage public transport to the Hill and ban private vehicles," he added.

Suggesting to make Chamundi Hill a carbon-neutral area by 2030 by utilising solar technology and earmarking a buffer zone around the foothill, Ravikumar said that the Chamundi Hill has already exceeded its carrying capacity and this is evident due to a series of landslides.

Chamundi Hill Development Authority

Founder President of Mysore Grahakara Parishat (MGP) Bhamy V. Shenoy reiterated the demand for the constitution of Chamundi Hill Development Authority to regulate unrestricted growth and exploitation that is against the environment. "Elected representatives give public statements to suit their agenda and as a result, most part of the Chamundi Hill is destroyed. It is important to create public awareness about the systematic destruction," he added.

It may be mentioned that a Draft Bill for constituting a Chamundi Hill Development Authority, as an autonomous body, has already been drafted by concerned citizens of Mysuru and given to the Department concerned in Vidhana Soudha for taking it forward.

Maj. Gen. (Retd.) S.G. Vombatkere said that as PRASHAD is a Centre's project, it is difficult to oppose it. "We need to extensively use social media influencers and celebrities to the cause of saving Chamundi Hill. Also, information posters, easily comprehensible bullet point pamphlets must be published and circulated. There is no use in protesting once the works begin and are under progress," he said.

Chamundi Betta Ulisi Samithi Convenor Parashurame Gowda, members of Parisara Balaga and other organisations were present at the meeting.

NOTE: When the question of the ownership of the Devikere and (some say) even the temple and the adjacent properties are claimed to be the properties of the Royal family, one is left perplexed at the attempt to implement PRASHAD scheme, leave alone the demand of the 'Heritage Panel' to be consulted for executing the project atop the Hill. — ED

Two Police vehicles booked for 'No Parking' violation

Mysuru, Jan. 20 (RK&BCT)- Though the Criminal Procedure Code grants permission to Police officers to pull over any vehicle, search any person or impose penalties on any person for violation regardless of his rank or of his post, it is rarely done if the violator is from the Police Department. Violators get away with the violation and the matter is usually brushed under the carpet.

However, the Devaraja Traffic Police have set an example by booking two drivers of Police vehicles for violating the 'No Parking' rule on the busy D. Devaraj Urs Road and causing public inconvenience.

Each driver was fined Rs. 1,000 that is normally levied from the public for a similar violation on Wednesday. Sources said that the drivers of the two jeeps had parked on the busy road at around 7.30 pm on Wednesday when usually the road is clogged with traffic. After parking, the drivers had left the place for some errands. Due to this violation, traffic was held up for some time on the road and other commuters on the stretch were wondering whether the Police jeeps will be booked for violation. Some commuters even informed the jurisdictional Devaraja Traffic Police about the violation.

While many thought that the drivers would get away as they were Department vehicles, the Devaraja Traffic Police swung into action and imposed a fine of Rs. 1,000 each on them and were issued challans for the same.

Three-day CAVA Mela begins

Mysuru, Jan. 20 (MTY&BS)- The hazards of using plastic, female foeticide, unabated cutting of trees that causes deforestation and 'White House' to describe the positive impact of white coloured backdrop, are among several other interesting exhibits on display at three-day CAVA Mela that got off to a start at Chamarajendra Government College of Visual Arts (CAVA) at Siddarthanagar in city this morning.

The students of Bachelor of Fine Arts (BFA) and Master of Fine Arts (MFA) from various departments such as Visual Arts, Sculpture, Photography and other Departments have displayed various artefacts that highlight issues still bothering the society.

Kannada and Culture Minister V. Sunil Kumar inaugurated the annual event. The Minister also inaugurated two new buildings built at the cost of Rs. 13 crore in the campus.

Minister Sunil Kumar said "Our Government is committed to promote education including the culture of the land. I am also aware of the issues plaguing the Institute (Chamarajendra Government College of Visual Arts) and steps will be taken up to address the issues in phases, as these types of institutes should be strengthened further."

Narasimharaja MLA Tanveer Sait said "The culture and tradition play vital roles in building harmony in the society. However, the very institute that vouches for strengthening unity in the society lacks adequate staff. It has only five permanent staff for 300 students."

Chairman of Zoo Authority of Karnataka (ZAK) M. Shivakumar, Chairman of Karnataka Exhibition Authority (KEA) Mirle Srinivas Gowda, Dean of Chamarajendra Government College of Visual Arts (CAVA) Devaraj and others were present.

Capt. G.R. Gopinath

Capt. G.R. Gopinath is the Founder of Air Deccan, India's first low cost airline set up in 2003. Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam, the former President of India, had said, "He is generally acknowledged as the father of India's low fares airline, which enabled the common man to fly."

Air Deccan went on to revolutionise Indian aviation with its 'no frill' business model that tightly controlled costs and offered affordable air fares to the Indian people, enabling millions of first-time fliers. Within 3 years Air Deccan's operations spanned over sixty-eight destinations including dozens of unconnected cities, with a reach that extended beyond even the State owned Indian Airlines.

Capt. Gopinath is also the Founder-Chairman of Deccan Charters and Aviation India's helicopter company in private sector. Deccan specialises in activities as diverse as: Heli-tourism, aerial mapping, geophysical surveys, gas pipeline surveys, support to oil rigs and medical evacuations among others. Presently Deccan Charters operates & maintains helicopters and fixed wing aircraft across fifteen locations in India.

Born in 1951, in a remote village Gorur in Hassan district, Capt. Gopinath studied in a Government Kannada medium village school till class VII walking barefoot. He later got selected to the Sainik School at Bijapur and joined the National Defense Academy (NDA). In 1971 he was commissioned as officer in the Indian Army and served in the Bangladesh Liberation war. He resigned from the Army after eight years of service in Kashmir, Bhutan, Assam, Sikkim and other parts of India, decided to chart a new path for himself. Returning to his village, Capt. Gopinath took up agriculture on a barren piece of land and within a few years went on to become not only a successful farmer but also established himself in India and abroad with his environmentally conscious and effective farming techniques. In 1996 he was awarded the "Rolex International Award for Enterprise for breaking new ground with his project Ecological Silk Farming to Improve Living Standards".

On Nov. 1, 2005 Capt. Gopinath was honoured with Rajyotsava Award by Government of Karnataka. In May 2006, he was knighted with "Chevalier de la Legion d'Honneur" or Legion of Honour, the highest civilian award conferred by the French Government. The same year he was also awarded "Sir M. Visvesvaraya Memorial Award" by the Federation of Karnataka Chambers of Commerce and Industry.

His business autobiography 'Simply Fly' [translated into Kannada under the title 'Baana Yana' by Vishweswar Bhat] are both runaway hits. It has become the 'must read' book for all entrepreneurs and MBAs as recommended by late Dr. Abdul Kalam. His second book 'You Cannot Miss This Flight,' also published by Harper Collins with a foreword by eminent economists Lord Meghnad Desai [also translated into Kannada under the title 'Naanu Devama Manavanaagiddare' by Padmaraj Dandavate], is a collection of essays of contemporary issues and diverse subjects on India. He is a frequent contributor to the major print and online media on economics, enterprise, politics, governance and societal issues.

His third anthology of essays "Our India - Reflections on a nation betwixt and between" with a Foreword by Gopalkrishna Gandhi published by Harper Collins was released in Sept. this year.

Fresh at job, Forest Watcher loses life in jumbo attack

Nanajaiah

Chamarajanagar, Jan. 20 (BS)- A watcher who was barely two-day-old in Forest Department has lost his life in wild elephant attack at Eththugatti Betta area in regional forest range of the taluk.

Nanajaiah (35) of Hosapodu in Punajanur is the deceased person. He had joined the Forest Department as a daily wager two days ago, as the Department is recruiting more number of workers on a daily wage basis due to the lack of adequate personnel, to take up elephant operations.

The herd of wild elephants had been camping at agricultural fields in Vadgalpura, Chennappanapura and other villages in the taluk for the past few days. Apart from damaging the crops, they had even caused the death of an ox, thus triggering fears among villagers.

The Forest Department had launched an operation to drive back the elephants that were believed to have strayed out of Sathyamangalam Forest in Tamil Nadu.

As the herd of about 60 to 65 elephants were camping at Chennappanapura Betta coming under Eththugatti camp, the Forest personnel had launched the operation of driving away the pachyderms from the temple area at Chennappanapura Betta. The elephants were moving towards Eththugatti Temple, when about 20 to 30 Forest personnel were trailing them.

During this time, a mother elephant returned only to attack the forest personnel. While others escaped, Nanjaiah sustained grievous injuries and was rushed to Chamarajanagar Institute of Medical Sciences (CIMS) Hospital, where he succumbed after sometime.

The body of Nanjaiah was handed over to family members after post-mortem.

The Forest Department officials, who visited the spot, promised a suitable compensation to the next of the kin of the deceased.

Chamarajanagar MLA C. Puttarangashetty visited CIMS Hospital, paid his last respects to Nanjaiah and consoled his family members. He promised to write a letter to the Government seeking a compensation of Rs. 50 lakh to bereaved family members.

RFO Umesh, DRFO Chandrakumar, ACF Suresh and others were present during the MLA's visit.
